Notes

- Admission requirements are subject to change for future intakes. Please watch for updates on the program website linked above.
- A 1.5-unit course (equivalent to 3-4 credits at most institutions) meets for at least 3 hours per week for 13 weeks (one term).
- At UVic, 'upper-level' refers to 300 and/or 400-level courses normally taken in third and fourth year after introductory studies.

Teachable subject area: Social Studies

The BC Ministry of Education defines social studies as "a multidisciplinary subject that draws from the social sciences and humanities to study human interaction and natural and social environments." In BC secondary schools, social studies may be offered as: Social Studies 8-11 and various grade 12 classes including 20th Century World History, Asian Studies, Indigenous Studies, Comparative Cultures, Economic Theory, Human or Physical Geography, Political Studies, etc. Curriculum documents may be viewed on the BC Ministry of Education website.

Courses will be accepted in history, geography, political science, sociology, anthropology, and economics if they are approved as being related to the BC social studies curriculum. For example, UVic's ECON 321 The Economic History of Canada is approved but not ECON 310B Competition Policy. We will also accept social studies related courses from Canadian studies, Asian & Pacific studies, gender/women's studies, Indigenous studies (other than education-related), urban studies and environmental studies if they are related to history, geography, political science, sociology, anthropology, or economics. A limited number of courses from classical/Greek & Roman studies, criminology, international relations, law, or religious studies may be accepted on a case-by-case basis.

- 12 units, including 9 units upper-level, are needed to qualify for social studies as one of two teachable subject areas or
- 15 units upper-level are needed to qualify with a single social studies teachable subject area.

UVic Education Advising will review your courses when you apply to the program. Courses used to satisfy lines 1-10 may also be applied to line A-C².
