GNDR 329 Topics in Power, Identities and Difference
Gender, Technology, and Justice

Contact Information for Instructor
Janni Aragon
Email: jaragon@uvic.ca

Description

Examination into the intricate ways that gender(s) and technology intersect. Topics include a historical view of technology and gender, data and gender, web literacy, culture, and the possibilities that technology offers for liberation and resistance.

Texts for Course

Caroline Criado Perez Invisible Women: Data Bias in a World Designed for Men Michael Caulfield Web Literacy for Student Fact-Checkers Open Textbook, free Web Literacy for Student Fact-Checkers by Michael A. Caulfield is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License, except where otherwise noted.
Sarah Jackson, et al #HashtagActivism: Networks of Race and Gender Justice. MIT Press