Professional associations (network and explore opportunities!)

These are just a handful of professional groups related to your field.

- Canadian Museums Association (museums.ca)
- National Humanities Alliance (USA) (nhalliance.org)
- Canadian Federation for the Humanities and Social Sciences (ideas-idees.ca)

Your friends, family, professors and colleagues are part of your network—ask them about their career paths and goals! You can learn all about effective networking (plus résumés, interviewing and more) in the tool kit (uvic.ca/coopandcareer/toolkit).

BUILD YOUR COMPETENCIES

Every experience helps you develop competencies—knowledge, skills and attributes that are valuable to employers.

The 10 core competencies (valuable in any workplace!)
These align with UVic's Learning Outcomes.

- Personal management
- Communication
- Managing information
- Research and analysis
- Project and task management
- Teamwork
- Commitment to quality
- Professional behaviour
- Social responsibility
- Continuous learning

Competencies specific to your academic program (here are just a few!)

- Demonstrate understanding of Latin and ancient Greek language and literature
- Demonstrate awareness of historical events in Ancient Greece and Rome
- Employ a systematic method of enquiry
- Interpret literary and non-literary texts in the context of the literary tradition
- Understand and interpret historical events and issues in their political and military contexts
- Understand and interpret material culture in its social and cultural contexts

You can also develop professional competencies and intercultural competencies.

See the competency kit (uvic.ca/coopandcareer/competencykit) for a complete list of competencies and how to reflect on, develop and describe them.
