hupa de 16 arah zhi a dogazishe ouroper how hipupi'axagoio ayo 60h hop wollar of of the poor texas is of topo jar 6, lip a ap autoro de Glapia Tout lu part 0100 por 01 76 10001. Drood 6 64 90 usvih Govdh janpa to diaghthe spioapt arpostage apaz apspors siorazisto. It dat of ag feat ebiliship hop he har popal. Morowo leas 200 1,000. Opap war chij xo 2000 o ho roch at ad b a soh ob op per per por porte ravi. oup 6 hartop xprohim his party of horhow arp & No o pap hill to do as to phas axa op * Mookehode Adarban & Eboht anteb del antolkan. afternat Joh chileboth grandion allelion noa work proto apaokhapolkaj sofomapravajajo. aspeida de presista da ou a usophisope a appo arpy day to has after aky h per des anay or. mil hep- 4001 go! ch or milang a handong Elentopo an emplayero wolly. Widio lead il leady. -way and specificante & the Tous arrow you & body. as o hebolo 100 Non Enproson autolio has Ept affer pop way to two which peroap agazor as Sotasti Splia kas aspace of tas anos pa

assor harp & h. a aperpop lind ape o year

Greek 202: Introduction to Greek Literature

Spring 2025 MTWTh 2:30-3:20 p.m. Professor TBA

Greek 202 is the fourth instalment in the ancient Greek sequence. The course introduces the advanced grammar and vocabulary necessary to read ancient Greek, and features original readings from a variety of ancient Greek authors.

Learn:

- a Greek vocabulary of about 650 words
- advanced Greek grammar
- advanced Greek reading skills
- historical and cultural contexts of ancient Greek

Prerequisite: Greek 201, or permission of the department.