

Pacific and Asian Studies

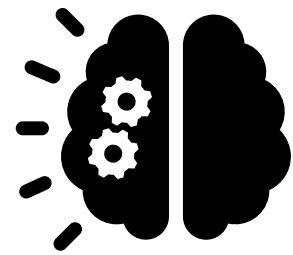

PAAS 128 Introduction to Korean I

Introduction to Korean I

Hailey Ceong
ceong@uvic.ca

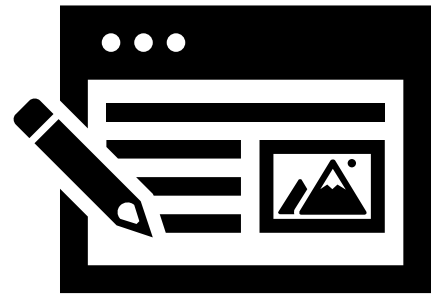

Learning Objectives:

- introduce their family members and talk about family;
- suggest things that one should try in Korea;
- talk about weekend and holiday planning;
- talk about what they want to do or try;
- request services and explain the purpose of their actions;
- ask or give the direction;
- talk about what they can and cannot do;
- express permission and prohibition.

Introduction to Korean I

Continuation of PAAS 128 for students who wish to improve their skills in Korean. This course is designed to help students develop communicative skills in Korean and it will prepare students for further study in Korean. Students discover and utilize their knowledge of the language through suggested readings, assignments, and direct interaction with the instructor and classmates.

Introduction to Korean I

Proposed Assignments:

- Quizzes: vocabulary & grammar (28 %)
- In-class Tests: comprehension and composition (16%)
- Listening test (6%)
- Individual oral assessment: Interview with the instructor (6%)
- Individual oral project: choose a topic of interest related to Korean culture and present it (10%)
- Final project (24%)

- 사랑해 한국어 I love Korean Student's book 2 (English version); Language Education; Institute of Seoul National University, Seoul National University Press, 2019.
- ◦ 사랑해 한국어 I love Korean Workbook 2 (English version); Language Education; Institute of Seoul National University, Seoul National University Press, 2019.