

CRITICAL ISSUES IN B.C.'S WATERSHEDS: INDUSTRY, INDIGENOUS GOVERNANCE & LEGAL ENTITLEMENTS

MARCH 11, 2013 | 12:30–2:30 P.M. | SED 168C

Focused through the lens of our changing climate – and changing hydrology – this event will explore three priority water challenges facing Canadians today: natural gas development and tracking; indigenous governance and collaborative water governance; and water entitlements. It will also include an exploration of social innovation and water governance reform as options for addressing these issues. Presentations will draw on current research from a diversity of UVic departments and centres (Centre for Global Studies, Environmental Studies, Geography, Law).

RSVP mandatory - please email: water@polisproject.org
