

PHYSICS AND ASTRONOMY COLLOQUIUM

Dr. Victoria Kaspi

McGill University

“Fast Radio Bursts”

Abstract

“Fast Radio Bursts (FRBs) are short (few millisecond) bursts of radio waves observed from cosmological distances. Their origin is presently unknown, yet their rate is many hundreds per sky per day, indicating a not-uncommon phenomenon in the Universe. In this talk, I will review the FRB field and present new results on FRBs from the Canadian Hydrogen Intensity Mapping Experiment (CHIME).”

Wednesday, November 4, 2020

3:30 p.m.

via Zoom: <https://uvic.zoom.us/j/99605059029>