Course Content

Calendar Description: Theories of aggregate economic behaviour; the determination of national income and employment, consumption, investment, inflation, growth and fluctuations, economic policy.

The course covers modern theories of aggregate economic behaviour, the determination of national income and employment, consumption, investment, inflation, and growth. The course includes some applications of economic policy problems related to unemployment, aggregate fluctuations, taxation and balance of payments disequilibria. A goal of the course is to teach students how to take an economic approach to analyze complex policy issues and current events. This will involve using some maths to better understand how macroeconomic theories work and how they are applied. At times, this approach will require working with appropriate data sources, preparing graphs or tables, performing some calculations and interpreting the results. Ultimately, one of the skills we aim to teach is the ability to understand how economic policy and shocks affect the economy, as reflected in macroeconomic variables such as GDP, interest rates, prices and employment. What defines macroeconomics is mainly a broader perspective on economic phenomena, and the type of questions that are posed. We will look at the economy as a whole, rather than its specific details (though, also the 'micro' aspects are important). We will address the following questions: Why are some Countries rich while others are poor? What determines interest rates? How does the Bank of Canada influence the economy? How should Governments intervene when the unemployment rate increases?

Learning Outcomes

Students will be able to:

- Work with key National Income Accounting principles
- Apply critical thinking to interpret aggregate economic phenomena
- Sharpen their analytical skills by applying simple mathematical tools (algebra and multivariate calculus) to analyze macroeconomic models
- Manipulate macroeconomic (general equilibrium) models of economic growth and aggregate fluctuations to study the desirability of government intervention.
- Apply both graphical and analytical methods to assess the potential benefits and pitfalls of Fiscal and Monetary policy
- Use an economic approach to analyze current events and complex macroeconomic issues
- Develop a critical understanding of the main paradigms in Macroeconomics

Course prerequisites/corequisites

Prerequisites: ECON 103, 103C or 180; ECON 104; MATH 100, 102 or 109.

Repeating Courses

Be aware of the policy regarding the repeating of courses; see University Calendar.

In order to request permission to attempt this course for the third time, you must follow the instructions provided under the Repeating Courses policy on the Economics website.

Failure to obtain permission will result in deregistration from the course.

Textbook

The required textbook for the course is Macroeconomics by Abel, Bernanke, Croushore, and Kneebone (Toronto: Pearson, 2021). Ideally, students should obtain the 9th Canadian edition, but the 8th edition will work as well. The digital version is available at the campus bookstore:

https://www.uvicbookstore.ca/text/book/9780136727798?course_id=124561

Brightspace

Brightspace is used extensively for the course. All students are expected to be fully functional with the system. The lecture notes will be posted in Brightspace. Please note that the lecture notes online are only outlines of the actual lectures.

All announcements will be posted in Brightspace. Students are advised to check it frequently.

Minimum Grade Requirements

ECON 204 has a C as minimum program requirement (for FME, BA and BSc students listed. Students pursuing an Honours degree should consult the academic calendar).

Grading

Grading Scheme

The course grade is determined as follows:

Quizzes (5): five online quizzes, each worth 4%.

Assignment (1): one long assignment, submitted and graded, worth 10%.

Midterms (2): two in person midterm exams, each worth 15%.

Final Exam: in person, worth 40%.

Quizzes: There will be 5 online quizzes. These quizzes serve as study guides, and to prepare for both the multiple choice and the “long questions” in the exams. They will count 4% each towards the final grade (if attempted, otherwise students will receive a zero).

Assignment: It is designed for the students to learn the material in depth, and prepare for the “long questions” in the exams. It will be posted on Brightspace and must be submitted before the relevant deadline in the dedicated dropbox located in the Economics department (TBC). You may discuss with other students how to answer the questions. However, you must submit your own work. There will be one long assignment in the term. It will count 10% towards the final grade (if attempted, otherwise students will receive a grade of zero). Note: if caught copying other students’ answers, the assignment will receive a grade of zero.

Practice Exercises: During the term, I will circulate a number of exercises (with solutions) for the students to work on. They are helpful in preparing for the exams. Students are encouraged to attempt them, and clarify their doubts during office hours.

Final exam: There will be a final exam, scheduled during the December exam period.

Mandatory/Essential Course Components

Failure to taking the final exam will result in a grade of N regardless of the cumulative percentage on the course. N is a failing grade and factors into GPA as a value of 0.

In order to stay registered in the course, students must attend the lectures scheduled during the first week of the term. To this end, in the first seven days, I might take attendance.

Dates of Assessments, Due Dates of Assignments

Note: it is the student's responsibility to submit quizzes and assignments in a timely fashion. Unless an in-course extension was agreed upon before the relevant deadline, late submissions will not be accepted.

Quizzes (tentative) Due Dates: September 18th, October 2nd, October 16th, November 20th and December 4th. There may be some changes if necessary.

Assignment (tentative) Due Date: November 15th. There may be some changes if necessary.

Midterms: The two in-person midterm exams are scheduled on October 23rd and on November 22nd (TBC). More specific details will be given in due time. They are not cumulative, namely the second midterm will only cover the material presented after the first midterm. If you miss a midterm test due to illness or family affliction, please contact me by email. Make-up exams for midterms will not be given. In the event that you miss one midterm due to illness or family affliction, the weight of the missed exam will be shifted to the other exams (5% to the other midterm and 10% to the final). The weights of two midterms missed for valid reasons will be shifted to other assessments (10% to the quizzes/assignment and 20% to the final). Should you miss an exam without approval of the instructor, you will receive a grade of zero for that exam. Note: whenever needed, it is the student's responsibility to provide supporting documentation in a timely manner.

Final exam: It will be scheduled by the University. It is cumulative, namely it covers the material presented in the whole course. As per university policy, deferred final exams will be given only on the basis of documented family illness or family afflictions.

Grading Scale

A+	A	A-	B+	B	B-	C+	C	D	F or N
90-100	85-89	80-84	77-79	73-76	70-72	65-69	60-64	50-59	0-49

Students should review the University's more detailed summary of grading.

Missing Assessments

Should students encounter a situation where they miss an exam or cannot submit an assignment/quiz at its due date, they may qualify for an academic concession. Students are required to indicate the specific grounds on which they are requesting an academic concession and to provide a justification outlining the impact of the circumstances on their ability to complete course requirements. For in-course extensions, please fill in the form and follow the instructions on the form. I will not respond to informal requests of academic concessions. Note the automatic academic concession outlined above, such that the weight of a missed midterm for a legitimate reason is shifted to the other components. In case you miss the final exam, fill in a request for a deferral.

Students are advised not to make work or travel plans until after the examination timetable has been finalized. Students who wish to finalize their travel plans at an earlier date should book flights that depart after the end of the examination period. Students do not qualify for an academic concession if travel plans conflict with the examination.

Course Policies

This course adheres to the Undergraduate Course Policies of the Department of Economics that deal with the following issues:

- Academic concessions
- Academic integrity (plagiarism and cheating)
- Attendance
- Grading
- Inclusivity and diversity
- Late adds
- Late assignments
- Repeating courses
- Review of an assigned grade
- Sexualized violence prevention and response
- Students with a disability
- Term assignments and debarment from examinations
- Travel plans
- Waitlists

The following policies are explicitly included because of their importance:

Waitlist Policies

- Instructors have no discretion to admit waitlisted students or raise the cap on the course.
- Students on the waitlist should discuss with the instructor how to ensure they are not behind with coursework in the event they are admitted.
- Registered students who do not participate as specified in this outline during the first 7 calendar days from the start of the course may be dropped from the course.
- Registered students who decide not to take the course are responsible for dropping the course and are urged to do so promptly out of courtesy toward waitlisted students.
- Waitlist offers cease after the last date for adding courses irrespective of published waitlists.

Academic Integrity

Academic integrity requires commitment to the values of honesty, trust, fairness, respect, and responsibility. Students are expected to observe the same standards of scholarly integrity as their academic and professional counterparts. A student who is found to have engaged in unethical academic behaviour, including the practices described in the Policy on Academic Integrity in the University Calendar, is subject to penalty by the University.

Review What is Plagiarism for the definition of plagiarism. Note: Submitted work may be checked using plagiarism detection software.

Student Code of Conduct

The Humanities, Science, and Social Sciences Faculties have adopted this Student code of conduct. Please, review.

- Discrimination and Harassment Policy
- Policy on Human Rights, Equity and Fairness - The University is committed to promoting, providing and protecting a positive, supportive and safe learning and working environment for all its members.

Sexualized Violence Prevention & Response

UVic takes sexualized violence seriously, and has raised the bar for what is considered acceptable behaviour. Students are encouraged to learn more about how the university defines sexualized violence and its overall approach by visiting www.uvic.ca/svp. If you or someone you know has been impacted by sexualized violence and needs information, advice, and/or support please contact the sexualized violence resource office in Equity and Human Rights (EQHR). Contact svpcoordinator@uvic.ca.

Resources for Students

UVic Learn Anywhere - UVic Learn Anywhere is the primary learning resource for students that offers many learning workshops and resources to help students with academics and learning strategies.

Centre for Accessible Learning - Students with diverse learning styles and needs are welcome in this course. In particular, if you have a disability/health consideration that may require accommodations, you are free to approach me; however, you must register with the Centre for Accessible Learning (CAL) for formal arrangements to be made. The CAL staff are available by appointment to assess specific needs, provide referrals and arrange appropriate accommodations. The sooner you let us know your needs the quicker we can assist you in achieving your learning goals in this course.

Centre for Academic Communication - Offers coaching on academic integrity, including preventing accidental plagiarism. Provides support to students with time management, reading, writing, speaking, understanding academic expectations, and other aspects of academic communication as well as creating academic posters, blogposts, PowerPoint slides, and e-portfolios.

Health Services - University Health Services (UHS) provides a full service primary health clinic for students, and coordinates healthy student and campus initiatives.

Support Connect - a 24/7 mental health support service for students

- Toll-free (calls from North America): 1-844-773-1427
- International collect calls: 1-250-999-7621

Counselling Services - Counselling Services can help you make the most of your university experience. They offer free professional, confidential, inclusive support to currently registered UVic students.

Indigenous Student Services - Indigenous UVic students have access to many sources of support on campus. Before, during and after your time at UVic, you are encouraged to explore programs and services available to you, such as Indigenous counselling services and the Elders in Residence, as well as non-academic programs that may be of interest to you.

International Student Support - The University of Victoria offers a number of resources to support international students as they pursue their studies. UVic's International Centre for Students is the primary office supporting international students on campus at the university-wide level and provides various supportive program through the UVic Global Community Initiative, including a Mentorship Program and Conversation Partner Program.

For academic advising-related questions, students in the Economics Department are also encouraged to meet with the Economics Undergraduate Advisor (Brooklynn Comish-Trimble, ecadvice@uvic.ca) as well as an academic advisor in the Academic Advising Centre early in their studies to help map out a plan to declare a major and complete university program requirements. Other resources include the Centre for Academic Communication and the Math and Stats Assistance Centre.

The International Student Liason in the Economics Department is Dr. Paul Schure who can help you connect with other international and domestic students in the Department. His email address is schure@uvic.ca. Please, reach out if you are interested.

Course Experience Survey (CES)

I value your feedback on this course. Towards the end of term you will have the opportunity to complete a confidential course experience survey (CES) regarding your learning experience. The survey is vital to providing feedback to me regarding the course and my teaching, as well as to help the department improve the overall program for students in the future.

When it is time for you to complete the survey, you will receive an email inviting you to do so. If you do not receive an email invitation, you can go directly to the CES log-in. You will use your UVic NetLink ID to access the survey, which can be completed on your laptop, tablet or mobile device. I will remind you nearer the time, but please be thinking about this important activity, especially the following three questions, during the course.

What strengths did your instructor demonstrate that helped you learn in this course?

Please provide specific suggestions as to how the instructor could have helped you learn more effectively.

Please provide specific suggestions as to how this course could be improved.

Important Dates:

The last day for adding courses is September 20th.

The last day for withdrawing from courses without penalty of failure is October 31st.

E-mail Correspondence

Emails should be limited to critical matters, such as inability to attend class, an exam, or prolonged illness, and should include the course name and number in the subject line. Questions on course material should be asked during office hours or in class. The standard format for writing a letter must be used. This means it should begin with a salutation (e.g. Dear...), include full sentences and it must conclude with a signature that includes your full name and V#. Text message lingo should not be used. Note that it is not uncommon for Uvic's spam filters to block emails sent from non-uvic email accounts.

Electronic Devices

Countless studies unequivocally show that using electronic devices in class is detrimental to student learning. Please refrain from using your phone in class. Taking notes with paper and pencil might prove a useful commitment device to minimize the temptation of social media.

Use of AI

Please be advised that in this course you are not authorized to use any form of generative AI. In order to successfully complete course activities, generative AI is not required nor welcomed. Students should not make any use of generative AI tools such as ChatGPT, Grammarly, among others that use AI for content generation and editing. As the University of Victoria states on its Academic Integrity Policy “Academic integrity requires commitment to the values of honesty, trust, fairness, respect, and responsibility.” Therefore, I expect you to comply with the course syllabus and I encourage you to enhance your academic experience in this course by refraining from use generative AI.

Educational Technology involving storage outside Canada

The following educational technologies, which stores or accesses your personal information outside Canada, is required for this course: Zoom. I will make you aware if this list changes.

Personal information is required by the service. The privacy policy and the terms of use list the personal information stored outside of Canada and are available at <https://explore.zoom.us/en/privacy/>. I encourage you to read these documents.

If you are not comfortable with your personal information being stored outside of Canada, please speak to me within the first week of class about using an alternative (such as using an alias or nickname). Otherwise, by continuing in this course, you agree to the use of the educational technology in the course and the storage of personal information outside of Canada.
