

My name is Alice Maundrell and I currently live and work in Treaty 8 Territory, also known as Fort St. John, British Columbia. I am honoured to declare my candidacy for Senate at the University of Victoria. My academic journey at UVic has equipped me with a diverse skill set and a profound appreciation for the transformative power of post-secondary education.

My mission is clear: to serve as a passionate advocate for students and contribute to the enhancement of our university community. I believe that effective governance is the cornerstone of a thriving academic environment. As a band and music teacher, my commitment to education extends beyond the classroom, driving me to actively engage in shaping policies that prioritize student welfare and success.

Having experienced the formative years of early adulthood at UVic, I bring a unique perspective to the table. My academic background, coupled with my practical teaching experience, positions me as a candidate with the insight needed to navigate the complex landscape of university governance. I was very fortunate to complete both my undergraduate and graduate degrees at UVic. Understandably, UVic holds a very special place in my heart.

If elected, I pledge to represent the student body with dedication and integrity, working collaboratively with fellow senators to address the evolving needs of our diverse community. Together, let us create a university environment that fosters academic excellence, inclusivity, and holistic growth.
