Hi UVIC, my name is Ayla Starkey and I'm a first year Political Science student. I am a woman who's a part of the LGBTQ community hoping to get more involved with the school. I am passionate about the environment and equal opportunity. If I get the opportunity to be in the Senate I will advocate for fairness, equality, and honesty. So far in my experience at UVIC I have found the school community cares about hearing people and improving. I would be proud to participate in UVIC governance and hopefully better the school and its policies.
